

2012 SPATIALinfo Users' Conference

Why Should You Attend?

The SPATIALinfo Users' Conference affords attendees an opportunity to discuss individual needs, and help shape future developments in communications network asset management. Learn about the latest developments and services available from SPATIALinfo and network and socialize with fellow industry members. Take advantage of dedicated one-on-one time with subject matter experts and informative presentations. Attendees also can:

- Gain knowledge and exposure to new product features
- Participate in roundtable discussions
- Have access to SPATIALinfo products and experts in the hands-on lab
- Attend a wide variety of presentations by subject matter experts
- Encourage new ideas and advancements in the spatialSUITE® product line

The 2012 SPATIALinfo Users Conference will be held at the Westin Downtown in Denver, Colorado June 25 - 29, 2012. Don't miss the chance to see our keynote speaker Heather Gold, President of the FTTH Council.

Here's What Conference Attendees Had to Say!

"Rarely do you have an opportunity to get face time with a CEO."

"Location -- GREAT, Facilities -- GREAT, Organization -- GREAT!"

"Extremely well organized and executed."

"Staff was very helpful and instructive. They answered all of my questions."

"Hands-on lab is great. Lots of time to discuss my specific issues and getting them resolved."

"All good and talented people."

"Hands-on was the absolute winner in my eyes."

"Excellent conference and it is getting better each year. The round tables and hands-on are the most important to me."

"Thank you for such a well prepared conference. The information I got will help me to sell it to my upper management. I learned various tricks and the products upcoming. It was very professionally organized and I enjoyed every minute of it."
